

Enough!

Mandy Hale

And I would find myself again.
Not the same version of me that I was looking for,
But a stronger version. A wiser version...
A woman (man) who had been tried in the fire.
But instead of being burned by it,
Came out gold.
A woman (man) who finally,
After doubting and questioning and striving
And hustling for her (his) self-worth for years...
Came to the realization that
She (he) was and is and has always been...
Enough!
